WHAT IS CARALLUMA FIMBRIATA?

Caralluma fimbriata is a cactus-like plant that grows naturally in India, the Middle East, and North Africa. For centuries, civilizations have used Caralluma fimbriata as a powerful appetite suppressant. In ancient India, tribesmen would often pack a few sprigs of Caralluma fimbriata to sustain themselves on a multi-day hunt. They called this plant “famine food” due to its powerful ability to suppress hunger while enhancing stamina.

How Does Caralluma Fimbriata Suppress Appetite?

Caralluma fimbriata suppresses your appetite by targeting the hypothalamus.

Here's How It Works:

- 1) Your hypothalamus sends signals to your brain telling your brain that you need to eat.
- 2) After you've eaten, the hypothalamus sends signals to your brain that you've eaten a sufficient amount, and you're ready to stop eating.
- 3) Caralluma fimbriata intercepts signals going to and from the hypothalamus, which disrupts your natural hunger/fullness cycle and makes you feel less hungry.

These three-steps may help anyone eat less.†

CAFFEINE

Caffeine has been clinically proven to ward off drowsiness, decrease fatigue, increase alertness, and improve one's mood. Each Saba Empower™ capsule contains 150mg of caffeine, or about as much as a cup of coffee.†

B VITAMINS & FOLIC ACID

Your body needs B vitamins to convert carbohydrates into cellular energy (ATP). With a healthy dose of B6, B12 and Folic Acid, Saba Empower™ provides the fuel for efficient energy conversion.†
